

Description

The problem that I am interested in addressing is how to keep track of time while doing your practice. Scattered among the above wikis are references to most of the pieces you need to create a web page that does timing for you. Rather than breaking this up into a bunch of tasks, I am going to break this task up into a bunch of stages. I would encourage you to work through the stages in order for best practicing results. Also this will allow you to check frequently along the way to make sure that things are working as they are supposed to.
